PROPOSAL FOR THE EDMUNDIAN TIMES

Subject: Establishment of The Edmundian Times – A Student-Led College Newsletter

Introduction:

The Edmundian Times is a student-led newsletter documenting college events, fostering journalism, and providing a platform for creative expression. It will serve as a record of campus activities while helping students develop writing, editorial, and design skills.

Objective: Published every 3 months, the newsletter will feature:

- Reports on college events and competitions
- Opinion pieces and feature articles
- Poetry, creative writing, and student contributions
- Photographs and graphic content

Editorial Team Structure: An editorial board will be formed to oversee operations, with recruitment open to 4th and 2nd-semester students. The team will consist of:

- Editor-in-Chief – Oversees content and ensures quality.
- Journalists (2-3) – Cover events, write articles, and conduct interviews.
- Graphic Designer – Handles layout and visuals.
- Supervisor (Assistant General Secretary) – Provides oversight and ensures adherence to ethical standards.

Operations:

- Recruitment will be conducted to establish the editorial board.
- Regular meetings will ensure timely production.
- Content will be fact-checked and plagiarism-free to maintain credibility.

Benefits:

1. Provides journalism and media training for students.
2. Enhances event documentation through a dedicated initiative.
3. Encourages independent student-led journalism.
4. Offers practical experience in writing, editing, and design.
5. Strengthens the college's reputation through well-documented events.

Conclusion:

The Edmundian Times will function as an independent student-led initiative, promoting student engagement, creative expression, and campus documentation. Establishing an editorial board and recruiting students will ensure its success while maintaining high editorial standards.
